

A Family Tradition

Every day, our Weaver family works toward one goal — to build you a house that becomes a home, in a neighborhood where you know you belong. That's our family tradition. When you choose us as your builder, you won't just have a team by your side, you become part of the family.

Rooted right here in Pittsburgh, we're passionate about the people we work with and the communities we build. From our designers to our subcontractors, everyone is an equal part of our family, and we believe that's what makes us different. Together, we support our community in every sense of the word, whether we're sponsoring a little league team or engaging with local leaders. Because we're not just your builders, we're your neighbors too, and we believe in building communities that last for generations.

Since 1986, when Bill and Bonnie Weaver founded our family-owned company, our promise has been to ensure your journey home is just as enjoyable as everything that comes next. We're honored for the opportunity to make a house the home for you.

Your Home, Your Details

Before we begin construction on your new home, we take the time to get to know you — so who you are and what you value is built into the blueprint. With us, you don't just have the choice of floor plan; you have the ability to personalize design selections to your unique aesthetic. In our design studio, First Impressions, our professional design specialist will walk you through all the options you have to make your home entirely your own.

With our signature open-concept design, complete with the space you want and the storage you need, you're always connected to the things you love — the dinner party conversation, the late night laughter, the smell of coffee brewing from the comfort of your couch. In your main living area, designed without walls in the way, you never miss a beat of the good stuff.

Since the very beginning, family has been at the core of everything we do. It's how we build our homes, and how we treat the people we work with. We can't wait to welcome you into the Weaver Homes family.

WeaverHomes.com

